Synopsis

Stand-alone kitchen cabinets made of wood were manufactured in the United States about 1900-1940 by companies in the country's mid-west area. Boon, Hoosier, Kitchen Maid, McDougall, Napamee, Sellers and Wilson had catalogs and sales forces to promote their cabinet styles. This book includes catalog pages and color photos of existing models with detailed descriptions, dates, model numbers and values at today's market. ## Customer Reviews

This updated 134 page guide-book has been updated from the previous edition, with more than 30 new pages. It's loaded with plenty of super photos, and includes a brief introduction to the collectible. You'll find plenty of manufacturers' catalog pages shown, along with advertising pieces. Collector's will find it interesting and informative. It covers Boon, Hoosier, Kitchen Maid, McDougall, Napanee, Sellers, Wilson Cabinets, and others. A worthwhile addition to your library.

Very helpful identifying cabinets from different companies. Also helpful identifying parts specific to each cabinet. Lots of detailed photos. Gives history of Hoosier type cabinets. Shows accessory pieces which were the forerunners of today's kitchen caninets cabinets.

Very informative. Good source of information for anyone exploring the history of "Hoosier" style

Having recently acquired a Sellers Hoosier cabinet I wanted to find out more information and decided to purchase this book. I was pleased with the quality of the photographs which were primarily the old advertisements. I found it very interesting looking at all the different brands and styles. Unfortunately there is very little "written" information in this book. The "price guide" is only two pages. Also, my particular brand (Sellers) had only 21 of the 134 pages dedicated to it. Napanee had only three pages. Boone only one page. The remainder of the book was dedicated to four brands information (McDougall, Hoosier, and KitchenMaid and Wilson). If you are interested in one of those four brands this book might be more for you. Now I see this book is $5 more than when I purchased and it is clearly marked 2006 prices.

Love it although information is not complete. There is a lot of info on Hoosier Manufacturing Co. cabinets and a some other makers too. Pictures are mostly from adds but brings a pretty good knowledge. This one and P. Kennedy books are the best in existence today.

This is THE standard reference book about Hoosier Cabinets in their many manufactured incarnations. A must have for anyone seeking to buy a Hoosier or who collects furniture.

Great book! We were able to get lots of info on both of our hoosiers from this. A must read if you own, are buying and/or refurbing a hoosier!
